

Environmental Support Roles:

Issue:

Regulations change, community involvement and staff absences can create a need for external support with environmental management.

Expertise:

We have a staff qualified environmental engineers, scientists and managers to complement in house personnel.

We have worked with a large and SME's in short to long term 'fill gap' and technical support roles.

Solution:

EnviroRisk have personnel with high inter-personnel abilities coupled with organisational 'smarts' that result in a seamless presence, and managed issues where problems are resolved not compounded.

Our past roles have ranged from one (1) week to three (3) month full time with one 'mentoring' role involving one (1) week per month for three (3) years.

“Your assistance with our resource difficulties and fitting straight into our team, with limited direction has been of tremendous help.”

- Ben Casauria,
Environmental Manager,
Visy Industries

